Reflections on UN GA High Level Meeting: What does this mean for civil society?

Safarali Naimov
Stop TB Partnership, Tajikistan

February 28th - March 1st 2019
Vomiting, severe headaches, sensitivity to light, body aches, and worst of all feelings of depression, hopelessness, confusion, absent-mindedness and nightmares. Yet my family with an indescribable mental and financial burden.

“Yesterday I was struggling to recover from multi-drug resistant tuberculosis, wondering how can it be that in this day and age one person and one family has to cope with so much trouble almost entirely on their own...”
Community and Civil Society Advisory Panel member
Leaders to lead us to end TB
What does this mean for civil society?

“Time for action and unity!”

This is our fight

We’re not doctors but we know why doctors who make incredible efforts fail to eliminate tuberculosis. We know the background and ground realities.
Thank you!
Let’s get engaged!