The Romantic Disease: An Artistic Exploration of Tuberculosis

Anna Dumitriu
Background

• Masters Degree in Fine Art, University of Brighton
• Visiting Research Fellow in the Global Health Research Centre at Brighton and Sussex Medical School
• Artist in Residence with Modernising Medical Microbiology at the University of Oxford
• Artist in Residence with the National Collection of Type Cultures at Public Health England (the oldest collection of pathogenic bacteria in the world)
• Visiting Research Fellow in Computer Science at the University of Hertfordshire
HYPERSYMBIOTICS™
Genius Germ's Patent Creativity Pills
With extract of Tuberculosis DNA

Immediate relief from writer’s or artist’s block
Famous the world over

No known side effects
Not authorised for human consumption
Not FDA approved. “Trust me, I’m an artist”

HYPERSYMBIOTICS
Dr. D’s New Biohime Drops
Fecal transplant pills
“Cures anxiety, heals your gut and helps you lose weight”
Not authorised for human consumption
Not FDA approved. “Trust me, I’m an artist”

HYPERSYMBIOTICS
CRISPR Miracle Cure
Part A: Make Do
Molecular scissors cut out deadly antibiotic resistance from bacteria
Not allowed except to a registered specialist
Don’t. One per colony of bacteria
Not FDA approved. “Trust me, I’m an artist”
Links

http://www.annadumitriu.co.uk http://theromanticdisease.tumblr.com http://www.modmedmicro.co.uk

E-mail: annadumitriu@hotmail.com
Facebook: facebook.com/annadumitriu
Twitter @annadumitriu
Instagram @annadumitriuart